

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I'm concerned that this proposal could make my service unaffordable for low-use customers like me.

Under the flat fee proposal, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as those that make many calls; low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is grossly unfair!

I use my wireless phone for very infrequently (~100-200 min/Year!!). It would be unfair to charge the same fee to low-consumption accounts like mine so that big businesses and volume-users can pay less. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Jeff Shamis
